Tropical Storm Henri – Martha’s Vineyard Update

Tropical Storm Henri will approach Martha’s Vineyard from southeast tomorrow evening and will reach peak Sunday morning. Projected winds are 40mph, gusting to 50mph with a heavy rainfall approx. 1-4” and storm surge 3 to 5 feet.

We urge all residents and visitors to plan to shelter in place starting Saturday evening and all day Sunday.

Travel

If you were planning to travel on Sunday, please alter your plans. Steamship Authority will be running extra boats on Saturday. If you currently have a reservation, please read the Steamship Authority Updates - <https://www.steamshipauthority.com/Henri>

Anyone who is looking to move an off-island trip to Saturday should contact the Reservation Office at 508-477-8600. Changes cannot be made online for Saturday travel. Although there will be no boat service from Oak Bluffs on Saturday, that terminal will be staffed and Steamship is asking people who wish to try and change a reservation in person to do so there and not go to the Vineyard Haven terminal.

Power Outage

If you would like to report a power outage, please do so online or by calling Eversource at 1-800-592-2000. If it is a life-threatening emergency, please move to a safe location and call 911 immediately.

Please sign up for CODE RED – island-wide emergency alert system!!

We can notify you of important messages and emergency alerts. This is a voluntary system, it will not reach you unless you register. Here is the link:
